FORMER SHERIFF SLAIN BY FRIEND NEAR MER ROUGE

QUARREL OVER TESTIMONY IN KLAN HEARING HELD CAUSE.

SHOT TO DEATH

Slayer and Brothers Mentioned Repeatedly on Witness Stand at Inquiry.

Monroe, La.—John P. Parker, Jr., former sheriff of Ouachita parish, who was shot on the Bastrop road, 15 miles from Bastrop Friday night, by Carey Calhoun of Monroe, died at a local hospital here early Saturday without having regained consciousness.

RESULT OF QUARREL OVER MASKED AFFAIRS

Bastrop, La.—Monroe, police say, Saturday said that from meagre information they had been able to gather, indications were that the fatal shooting of J. P. Parker, Jr., on the Bastrop-Monroe road last night was the result of a quarrel over masked band affairs.

According to the story, Parker met Calhoun, said to have been a close friend, on a street in Monroe, and persuaded him to go to his plantation home. With Parker and Calhoun went Wess Saunders and another.

Shooting Follows
On the outskirts of Monroe, Parker stopped off at the home of a negro woman who cooks for him when he is at his country place, and Calhoun and Saunders followed him. According to the police reports, Parker and Calhoun, after they entered the house, began to quarrel regarding certain testimony given at the hearing here into masked band activities in Morehouse parish and the shooting followed.

Parker was the son of John P. Parker, whose name has been prominently mentioned in the open hearing. He, according to evidence, was a member of the "peace conference" held at Monroe between citizens of Bastrop, Mer Rouge and Monroe and officials of the Ku Klux Klan, to restore order in Morehouse parish.

Brothers Mentioned
Calhoun is a brother of Gus and Laurie Calhoun, both of whom have been mentioned repeatedly in connection with masked activities. Laurie Calhoun was identified by a witness as being a member of a masked band who took him out into the woods and lectured him.

Carey Calhoun testified at the open hearing that the latter part of the night he was going to see Wm. B. Norsworthy, who is alleged to have received part of an offer of $15,000 to kill Dr. McKinnon. Calhoun testified he saw Norsworthy, who was seen by Captain J. K. Skipworth, exalted cyclops of the Morehouse parish Klan, at Vaughn, La., which resulted in Norsworthy being exonerated from the charge.

Interest Shown in Fair Meeting

Interest was evident at the stockholders' meeting of the Janesville Park association in the city hall, Saturday afternoon. There were a number of farmers present anxious to see a reform put through in the financing of the fair, a proper account rendered and more interest in the agricultural features.

Three new directors were scheduled to be elected. Many proxy holders hoped that at least two of these directors would have interest in farming or farmers.

Just before the meeting there was an expression of sentiment to increase the fair board of directors to 11 members to further represent the county.

EIGHT GOVERNORS CALLED BY BLAINE FOR CONFERENCE

COLORADO EXECUTIVE MAKES PUBLIC LETTER OF BADGER.

IN KANSAS CITY

State Control, Farm Credit, Tax Publicity Among Discussion Topics.

Denver, Jan. 20.—Governors who are "progressive and forward looking" have been called to a conference, tentatively set for Feb. 2 and 3 in Kansas City, Mo., by Governor J. E. Blaine of Wisconsin. It was announced here Saturday by Governor Sweet of Colorado.

Governor Blaine outlined several subjects which he believes should be discussed, including "maintenance of state control of interstate functions against federal encroachment, publicity for tax returns and consideration of the question of production, distribution and price of coal."

Executive of the following states would be included in the conference: Arizona, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas and Iowa.

Governor Blaine's letter to Governor Sweet follows:
"Hon. Wm. E. Sweet, Governor of Colorado, Denver:
"Dear Governor Sweet: I would like to attend a conference in December at Washington of the progressive members of the senate and house. It was then suggested that a conference might well be called of the progressive and forward looking governors west of the Mississippi, including Wisconsin."

Kansas City suggested.
"As you are the Washington conference was non-political and nonpartisan. I personally feel that much good will come out of the Washington conference, and also feel that a conference of the progressive and forward looking executives of the states mentioned will be able to accomplish much good, not only for their respective states, but such efforts will be carried into other states."

"I am, therefore, taking the liberty of advising with you regarding such a conference. It seems to me that the logical place of meeting for such conference would be Kansas City or the capital of Kansas, Topeka. The place should be centrally located as possible, to include Arizona, Colorado, Oklahoma, and Montana and possibly Wyoming."

Eight Governors
"I am, therefore, writing eight executives west of Chicago regarding the desirability of the conference, and if it appears that the conference will be attended by those to ascertain the place as well as the time."

"I feel that if we are to accomplish the good we need the conference should be held as early as possible and I am therefore, suggesting February the second and third as the date, but being as early as we can hold it. I am, therefore, suggesting that the conference consider the following questions:
"Maintenance of state control of interstate functions against federal encroachment.
"Credit for agricultural producers and home builders.
"Public utility rate returns.
"Cooperation Urged
"Provision for cooperation of state governors in representation before congress and the interstate commerce commission with reference to railroad valuation, rates and service.
"Perfection of primary and registration laws and corrupt practices.
"Consideration of the question of production, distribution, and price of coal.
"Cooperative movements and cooperative marketing for agriculture.
"The question of waterpower and hydro-electric utilities."

PAY LAST HONORS TO WALLACE REID

Episcopal and Elks' Services Read; Noted Actors Are Pallbearers.

Los Angeles.—The body of Wallace Reid, motion picture star, was to go on its last "locality" Saturday. That was the word used to explain his absence to his small son, Billy, and that was the word used generally throughout the city. It had a different meaning in each case.

To the boy, it merely meant his father was out of town making pictures at some scene not readily duplicated at home.

Billy, who is five years old, and his tiny adopted sister, Betty, will not attend their father's funeral and an attempt will be made to keep them at play at home this afternoon when the last rites are performed for them.

The body was to lie in state from 10 o'clock to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the First Congregational church not far from the center of the downtown business activity.

The doors of the church were to be closed for an hour beginning at 2:30 o'clock and at 3:30 joint services were to be held by Episcopal clergy and lodge No. 30, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of which Reid was a member.

The Rev. Neal Dodd, rector of St. Mary of the Angels, was to read the Episcopal service. He is known as the "chaplain of the movies" and his church as Hollywood's "little church around the corner."

Chief of Police O'Leary has detailed a large number of uniformed officers to handle the crowds, expected to gather outside the church which will hold only a comparatively small congregation.

Active pallbearers include Benny Frazee, Reid's chauffeur. Others will be William S. "Bill" Hart, Ed. Brady, Noah Beery, William Desmond and Eugene Pallette.

Herrin mine killings will be Theodore Roberts, Jack Holt, Sam Wood, Conrad Nagel, Antonio Moreno and Victor H. Clark who will represent the Elks, by whom Reid was employed.

The body will be cremated at a cemetery in Glendale, a suburb.

ROAD EXPERIMENTS PROVE VALUABLE

"One of the most interesting things to me in all the good roads show in Chicago this week was the report on experimental roads of all types and designs," said City Engineer C. V. Karch, Saturday, upon his return from the show.

"These tests brought out unusually valuable information from an engineering standpoint, especially in the design of a type of road to withstand certain traffic weights. The tests have resulted in Illinois making a change in her concrete road building, future work to call for nine-inch edges and only six inches in the middle instead of the former plan of having the paving thicker in the center than on the edges. The general plan in Wisconsin is six and seven inches thick, being tested before purchase is made."

Known as the "stereo-scope," it is a projecting device which folds up and can be carried from room to room. A projecting electric lantern is part of the device and is used to project the box-like in appearance, the lantern being fastened to the front frame. The rays strike a mirror in the back, which in turn, enlarges the picture and projects it on a screen at the front frame directly above the lantern.

The device stands about six feet in height and extends three or four feet back. It is used without darkening the room, and enables the lecturer to run the lantern and explain the pictures with a pointer at the same time. The device is very portable and is recommended highly.

FURTHER DRASTIC STEPS ARE TAKEN IN RUHR DISTRICT

MORE MINE DIRECTORS ARE ARRESTED FOR COURT MARTIAL.

LABOR RESTLESS

Germany Institutes Boycott of French and Belgians; Paris Sees Progress.

Essen.—Strikes in protest against the arrest of the five mine directors taken into custody with Fritz Thyssen Saturday morning are being declared in rapid succession by the officials, technical staffs and mine workers of the firms in which the directors belonged.

Essen.—It was reported here Saturday morning that Marshal Foch would arrive in the Ruhr valley during the day.

Further drastic steps were taken by the French Saturday in their efforts to enforce reparation payments by their occupation of the Ruhr valley.

Fritz Thyssen, son of August Thyssen, leader among the Ruhr coal magnates resisting the French coercive measures, was arrested with five other leading mine directors.

The French have announced they would try Herr Thyssen and his assistants by court martial for refusing to obey the orders of occupational authorities.

German bankers in the Ruhr continued resistance to the French measures. The directors of the Dusseldorf branch of the Reichsbank refused to reopen that institution while French soldiers were on the premises. Punitive action against the directors is forecast.

While there has been no general walkout of the Ruhr miners or railroad men, considerable unrest is reported among them and miners in some of the seized coal pits have cut output of five thousand tons at the Recklinghausen mines are threatening to strike Monday.

The German railroad workers in the Elberfeld district south of the occupied zone of the Ruhr, decided to refuse to transport coal requisitioned by the French army from the valley.

Paris indicates satisfaction with the progress made in carrying out the occupation scheme. Confidence is expressed that the vast industrial machine in the Ruhr which still is functioning can be kept going despite the German resistance.

A boycott against French and Belgian nationals is reported from Germany. It is expected the example set by the Berlin hotel keepers in declaring a boycott will be followed by all over the country.

REICHSBANK DIRECTORS REFUSE TO SIGN ORDERS

Dusseldorf.—A point blank refusal from the directors of the Reichsbank branch here to reopen the bank's doors, was delivered Saturday to Gen. Degoutte, the French commander in the Ruhr.

"The bank will remain closed so long as there is a single French soldier in or around the premises," the director declared. Gen. Degoutte, in replying, held the directors personally responsible and informed them that the military guard would be removed only after the bank had reopened for business.

It was expected penalties would be imposed on the directors during the day.

PAY DAY IN RUHR IS PROBLEM FOR FRENCH

Essen.—Pay day in the Ruhr brought labor to the fore as one of the most formidable obstacles in the path of French and Belgian experts who, in their firm determination to exact reparation payments by force, have seized some of the Prussian state mines and arrested several of the magnates.

To the murmurs of discontent at the present pay procedure, there were several of the pit heads, there was added Saturday an atmosphere of unrest and uncertainty as the workmen began to wonder whether their pay would be paid.

Delegates from the unions were informed Friday by the French that France was unwilling to assume responsibility for the wage payments. On the other hand, Herrenrath and Thyssen, although not officially announcing they had no money to meet the pay roll, gave the workers to understand that Saturday's envelopes would probably be paid.

OIL MAY STIR UP POLITICAL RUMPU

La Follette and Committee Dig for Chicanery in Sinclair Inquiry.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Janesville Daily
Gazette.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The international trouble-maker, may furnish the fuel for the fires of domestic politics here long. Senator La Follette, who figured in the battles waged by the insurgents in the middle of the Taft administration, is on the hunt for dirt on the oil industry. He will in general justify the assertions of his group that the present administration has favored private interests as against the public welfare. A long record of the entire record of the government's negotiations with the oil companies, with respect to oil leases in the famous Teapot Dome region, is now in process of a complete review. The resolution of inquiry by the Wisconsin senator just now doesn't turn on the details of the lease which will be brought by investigation by the public lands committee but certain collateral phases of the deal itself, namely the purchase and sale of securities which were affected by the making of the lease.

Harding Backs Fall.
President Harding has let it be known that he stands by the Secretary of the Interior department did in making the lease. The view of Mr. Fall has been that he made the best contract possible to get the oil out of the interior. Mr. Harding feels that the record will prove this and Secretary Fall himself has been most anxious that every fact in the negotiations be made public. He has insisted from the time the subject was first mentioned in the senate that it be probed to the bottom.

On Inside Rumor.
Ever since the lease was made there have been rumors current that various persons who were "on the inside" know about the making of the Teapot Dome lease and were able to profit accordingly. It has even been hinted that friends of men high in public life have profited through advance knowledge of what the government would do.

Naturally government officials are not responsible for the effects their actions produce on the outside world of finance. Many a government statement has in the past sent stock up and down. In fact, the entire "leak" investigation in December, 1916, centered around the sending of a note by the American government to Germany, which said certain stocks go down because of the possibility that the companies concerned would have their contracts terminated by an early ending of the war.

Point to Resignation.
Just what the investigation will show as to the effect of the Teapot Dome lease on the private fortunes of various individuals, it is too early to say. That is one line of attack, however, entirely apart from the question of whether the lease was agreed on for the government to make or one that affects the public welfare.

In this connection, another rumor has been going the rounds here for several months, namely, that Secretary Fall would resign from the cabinet because of the dissatisfaction of western republicans with the Teapot Dome lease. There are certain oil groups which have felt that the lease to the government would tend to draw away oil from nearby properties owned by them. When Mr. Fall did resign from the cabinet, those who predicted the resignation existed and his retirement said "I told you so." There is every reason to believe that Secretary Fall will not resign on that account at all and when the investigation of the senate develops, his friends are sure this viewpoint will be confirmed.

Fall Out of Tune.
Mr. Fall gave as his reason the need for personal attention to his private business. The president's office put a place on the supreme court of confidence in itself but it can be stated positively that the president would like Mr. Fall in such high esteem he would like to have him remain in the cabinet.

Albert Fall, however, didn't want to stay. His resignation was purely voluntary. He found himself out of tune with many administration policies with other members of the cabinet. His long years of aggressive warfare in the senate have made of Albert Fall a fighter and an individualist. He is very much like the star football player who can't somehow harmonize his play with the rest of the team. Whether the fault was in the speed of his colleagues or whether it was in the belligerence or positiveness of view of Mr. Fall, himself, nobody but a psychoanalyst will ever be able to tell. But whoever succeeds him will find that oil will be for the next two years a most perplexing issue in western politics.

SUNDAY BLUE LAWS ARE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The Sunday law advocates who are flooding Congress, at Washington, with petitions in support of a Sunday law for the District of Columbia, in so doing, are not aiding our government, or standing by our Constitution. But are supporting some church creed, and are determined to force all to drink of their wine, says Evangelist B. J. White.

Mr. White will give a timely lecture at the West Side, I. O. O. F. hall on Milwaukee St., Sunday night, 7:30. Subject, "Sunday Blue Laws." Are they Civil or Religious? Why are they called "Blue Laws"? Are they Constitutional? Who framed the first Sunday Law? Do we want a Puritan Sunday or shall we stand by the Constitution as our Forefathers made it.

ROCK CO. GRADE COW SETS RECORD

"Kit," a Holstein Cow, Establishes New Record in Testing Associations.

"Kit," a five-year old grade Holstein cow owned by Rockwell and Katterhenry, Beloit, has just finished a year's production run in the Beloit-Rock county cow testing association which makes the cow a world's champion among grades for production in association testing work.

The record run extends from January 16, 1922 to January 16, 1923 and the official figures in the Wisconsin register of production are 23,774 pounds of milk, with 896.7 pounds of fat with an average test of 3.42 percent. On the re-check test, A. J. Cramer, Madison, in charge of cow testing association records in this state, gives "Kit" credit for 23,774 pounds of milk, testing 3.44 percent and 894.2 pounds of butter-fat. Either set of figures is declared to be a world's record in cow testing association work.

"Beauty," a half sister to "Kit," also a grade Holstein, six years old, owned by the same firm, was retested at the same time and for December was given a mark of 100.2 pounds of milk testing 3.7 percent and 2,718 pounds of butter-fat during the 24 hours the check test was made. The 31 day credit for this cow is 3,106 pounds of milk containing 102.9 pounds of butter-fat, average 3.53 per cent, making this cow a champion for Wisconsin for December.

There is but slight variation in the records on these two cows and are prepared by Earl F. Smith, association checker and A. J. Cramer, making the check re-test.

Record for Year
The association record shows that the value of the milk produced by "Kit" for the year to be $334.41, the total feed cost to be $118.88 and the revenue over feed cost—$215.53. The cow continued to milk heavily during the entire year for even in the last 18 day period is credited with 700 pounds of milk, testing 3.49 and 27.9 pounds of butter-fat.

The record for the year follows:

Month	Milk	Test	Fat
January (15 d)	384	3.9	38.5
February	312	3.8	31.2
March	312	3.8	31.2
April	237	3.8	23.7
May	227	3.8	22.7
June	207	3.8	20.7
July	197	3.7	19.7
August	187	3.7	18.7
September	177	3.7	17.7
October	167	3.7	16.7
November	157	3.7	15.7
December	147	3.7	14.7
January (16 d)	750	3.49	27.9
Total	23,774	3.44	894.2

The ration fed consisted of 23 pounds of the following grain mixture—5.5 corn, meal, 5.5 ground oats, 5.5 bran, 5.5 oil meal, 1.0 soyabean meal with 1.0 pounds flaxseed, 5 pounds alfalfa and 8 pounds red clover.

Value of P. N. Sire
The value of a purebred sire is plainly evident in the herd history at the Rockwell and Katterhenry farm, near Beloit. The record stands out as a record of achievement for cow testing association work for the abilities of the record cow were unknown until she was tested. Instead of being an argument against registered sires, the record of "Kit" and other high producers in the herd is a convincing argument for purebreds, especially here sires. The sire of the world's champion grade is a purebred purchased Holstein bull bred by Mercedes Lad Johanna with the dam, Otter Creek Plot. Queen the second. The pedigree traces back to Sarcelle and on the dam's side there is considerable Ormsby blood. Eleven half sisters were sold by a bull bred by Tay Zahn and sold to James Benneke, a tenant on the farm now owned by Rockwell and Katterhenry. The dams of "Kit" and her 10 half sisters were "fair grades" but not noted for high production. The blooded sire has brought about remarkable results in raising the production for the average for the 11 herd is 12,573 pounds of milk, 437 pounds of butter-fat and the average profit as figured by cow testing association record for the year is $123.43 per cow. All of the 11 show remarkably long production periods, the longest being 270 days. The other 10 were in milk more than 200 days of the year.

Not content with that, he set up a new second for three games at 579 (228-187-164) 107 from the other than that the work of the Boswick's in wrecking the Traction company for three was the feature. The Varsity tied the Carr for fifth place by taking two from the grocermen, one by a single maple. Taking one game by a single maple, the Gazette dropped one of the three to Shurtlett's by six. The Golden Eagle set back the Boswick's in a postponed match, winning two.

9-SCHOOL UNION PLAN WINS FAVOR

Favorable Action on Consolidation Near Footville Expected Feb. 19.

Consolidation and centralization of schools as the solution of the problem of giving the country boys and girls the same advantages as their city neighbors at very little increased cost was stressed at a meeting, Friday night, at Footville by County Superintendent George S. Dick, Janesville, President Frank Meyer, of Whitewater Normal school and president of the Wisconsin Teachers' association, George S. Dick, and another point emphasized is that a consolidated school not only creates better school opportunities but it furnishes a community center, a building which may be enjoyed by both old and young.

Hall Is Crowded
Masonic hall was crowded when County Supt. Antisdel called the meeting to order. Mr. Antisdel spoke of the problems of education today and said that the meeting was called to consider the best for the future and that only through united effort can the desired results be brought on the farm and in the school.

Co-ordination, co-operation and consolidation were the three points emphasized by Mr. Hall. He has long been a believer in centralization of schools.

He took up the question "Shall We Consolidate When and Where?" He declared the first thing is to get rid of jealousy, if the community wished to follow the best line of education. He said there is a need for more home training, respect for the flag and good government.

County Behind City—Meyer
Some interesting statements on the problem of the rural schools were made by President Meyer, who said that for 35 years he had been a teacher and that 40 years ago he graduated from a country school. He said he had been watching the division grow between city and country in education and stated that today the county school educational system is far behind the city.

"Forty years ago said President Meyer" A man could go from the rural schools to the university. Today the eight years education in rural schools is equivalent to five or six in the city schools.

"Those in the country will never have the same advantages unless the old antiquated buildings are replaced by new modern structures. The boys on the farm have just as much right to become a doctor, lawyer or enter some other profession as the boys in the city."

Increases Taxes Slightly
This talk augmented by charts which showed conditions in the district as they are now and how they could be through centralization of schools.

Baker's Cocoa

is the ideal drink for growing children

Not only does it delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food.

Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet. But its quality must be good and no cocoa can quite so well meet the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as "BAKER'S."

Membership in the Good Times club has passed the 1,000 mark. Local branches in one-room schools total 81, while three state graded branches bring the total number of affiliated schools up to 87. Four new branches are reported, this enrolling a total of 104 members. Hanover school sends in the names of 40 pupils, the largest membership list thus far received from any one branch. The club has branches in schools in every township in Rock county, and Center head the list with 100 per cent membership of all rural schools. Among the schools that plan to have entertainments soon to raise funds for the purchase of phonographs are Afton, taught by Mrs. Margaret Finckley, and Tullar, taught by Miss Nellie Moley. The neighboring towns of Union, which cooperate with the latter school in the enterprise.
At a meeting of state graded school teachers in Janesville Jan. 13, a committee was appointed to consider plans for the music memory contests in these schools. It was decided that the second class schools would unite one-room schools, and that it would be best to have a separate contest for the pupils of the four first class state graded schools. The committee members were Misses Florence Ide, M. Fulton, Mizpah Bennett, Lima Center and Florence Shackleton, Milton Junction.

ON MUSIC MEMORY LIST
Sextette from Lucia—This selection is from the opera "Lucia di Lammermoor" by Gaetano Donizetti. The composer wrote 63 operas. He was born in Bergamo, Italy, in 1797 and died in 1848. The plot of the opera is founded on Sir Walter Scott's novel "The Bride of Lammermoor." The sextet which occurs in the second act, is one of the best known numbers from any opera.

It is more than a remarkable concerted number, it is also well fitted to the scene in which it occurs that even the critics of Donizetti have been compelled to admit its extreme beauty and dramatic power. "Edgar," the lover of "Lucy," enters the room unexpectedly just after "Lucy" has been tricked into signing the marriage contract with "Lord Arthur." After looking silently from one to the other of those assembled in the room, he finally draws his sword and confronts his enemy, "Sir Henry." ("Lucy's" brother) demands an explanation. The contrasting emotions of the characters are skillfully woven into the music as each takes up his portion of the song.

After a short introduction the sextette opens with a duet between "Edgar" and "Sir Henry," then the other characters enter until all are singing. The composition abounds in tense moments, and in climaxes.

BARCAROLE
This selection from "Tales of Hoffmann" by Jacques Offenbach is heard more often than any of the others on the contest list. The music is simple and for this reason it is possible for students to learn to play it on the piano early in their course of instruction. Jacques Offenbach was born in France in 1819 and died in 1880. He wrote during 25 years about 100 compositions most of which were operas.

Several of these were given in production.

Town school, town of Beloit has elected new club officers as follows: play-leaders, Bernard Richards, Alice Larson; story-tellers, Jennie Richards, Elizabeth Fuesbe; drama-matics leaders, Pearl Ellis, Roy Grohmer; Gazette reporter, Ella Van Alstyne.

Vicksman school has had their second election of club officers resulting as follows: play-leaders, Alice Bunnor, Nellie Reed; story-tellers, Russell Bauer, Candace Hurley; drama-matics leader, Phyllis Peabody; Gazette reporter, Muriel Werfel.

Pleasant Prairie school, town of Union, is mourning the loss of one of their members. Ruth Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robinson, who died the past week. The Good Times club extends sympathy to parents and friends.

Miss Ida Juleth, teacher of Forest Academy school, writes: "My pupils and myself are ardent readers of the Janesville Gazette and especially the section devoted to the Good Times club. We are all very anxious to commence our scrap books and many have started to save clippings. Please send me twelve covers for pupils and one for myself."

ANOTHER INDOOR BALL GAME
Indoor ball games are featured in the January-February recreation program sent to local branches. A good substitute for a soft ball may be made by crushing a newspaper and winding cord about it. Another indoor ball game not described in the bulletin is Keep Ball. The players are divided into two teams. Each team is then divided into two sections. The room is divided into four equal parts by rows of seats. Section one from team one stands between the first row of seats and section two from team two stands between the second row. Section two of team one stands between row three and section two of division two in the fourth aisle. The ball is tossed up between the two play-leaders, one leader belonging to each team. Each faces his own group and tries to strike the ball with his hand towards his own players. The team which gets the ball tries to keep it. For instance, if one section of team one gets the ball they try to toss it over the heads of the team two players in the next row to the other section of their own team. They continue throwing back and forth, scoring a point every time the ball is caught by one of their own team. The other team tries to intercept the ball and if successful score a point for catching it and try to keep it in the same manner, scoring one point for each time the ball is caught by a member of their own team. A scorekeeper is necessary.

Delavan—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Johnson, former residents of Delavan, now living in Los Angeles, think they have discovered the way to stop overtime work in divorce.

And when I saw the brim of his hat turned down I was to keep mum, for it meant he wasn't in the mood to be lectured. Sinclair, head of the Sinclair Oil interests, was under senate subpoena to produce complete records of the Hyva corporation, a private investment concern owned in its entirety by his family. Against the subpoena was a statement issued by him last evening after a clash with the investigation committee, headed by Senator La Follette, in which the oil man said that he would produce all records bearing on the committee's inquiry but that he was not willing to produce the records of the Hyva corporation, that pertain to other matters not pertinent to the subject under inquiry.

The disappearance from her home in Washington, D. C., in recent months have drawn much attention to a little Mildred Wen, Chinese girl. Miss Wen told officials she fled from home because she would not marry the man chosen for her by her family. Now both her father and her lover have cast her off, she says, and she's glad. She can live the life of her American sisters and marry whomever she loves. Until she decided to "live her own life" she worked behind the counter in her father's chop suey palace.

Chicago isn't Siberia, but just the same banishment is being resorted to to free the city of "loop-hounds" who persist in annoying women. Judge Schulman recently banished Claude Wyant after Miss Vivian Twining had complained that he had tried to flirt with her in a loop department store. "Chicago isn't Siberia, but a lot of good things come from there besides salt and the banishment idea is one of them," said Judge Schulman.

Wrecked logging camp at Morton, in western Washington, after flood passed. It took a cloudburst but a few minutes to wreck this little logging camp at Morton, Wash., re-entrenched in the logging tor- ments. Three persons were mangled to death among the great timbers, some of them five feet in diameter, which were tossed about in the raging tor- rent like toothpicks and which helped make kindling of the four-teen cabins, some of which are shown.

Rehearsal of the scene depicting the arrival of Ponce de Leon on the shores of St. Augustine. Preparations are being completed for the celebration of the anniversary of the landing of Ponce de Leon off the shores of St. Augustine, Fla. The celebration, to be held next April 4-5-6, will draw thousands to America's oldest city, where Ponce de Leon landed to begin his search for the fountain of youth. A vast amount of attention has been devoted to re-creating the gorgeous costumes of the British, Spanish and French soldiers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Relics of the time are still to be found in St. Augustine.

Left to right: Miss Shinnick, lady in waiting to "Mrs. Outremont"; Chairman Raymond of the sports committee; Miss Gauthier (Miss Montreal); Miss McDowell, lady in waiting to Miss Montreal; Mayor Frederick Martin, and Miss Higgins (Miss Outremont). Wearing his chain of office with all the dignity of the lord mayor of London, Mayor Frederick Martin headed the parade of winter sport enthusiasts which was one of the opening features of Montreal's winter carnival. With the mayor at the head of the parade were Miss Gauthier, who played the role of "Miss Montreal" and was dressed in appropriate regal robes. Miss Higgins represented the city of Outremont. The mayor and his party are shown above.

Victor Margueritte, French author, wrote a book, "La Garconne," exposing the vices of the "Four Hundred" of Paris to the vulgar gaze of the multitude. Then, perhaps because the truth hurts, the Legion of Honor, of which Margueritte was a commander, expelled the author. Other French writers have protested against the Legion's action.

Gerry Farrar, opera star, and her husband, Lou Tellegen, matinee idol, before their estrangement. Are the conflicting temperaments of Tellegen-Farrar family about to call a truce in their marital warfare? Boston wants to know. At her performance there recently her husband again assumed the role of a "stage door Johnny" and presented her with a huge bouquet of roses. Gerry smiled her prettiest and now Bostoners are wondering if the divorce hearing is to be called off.

Miss Blanche B. Aronin now has her shingle prominently displayed outside a Chicago law office. In addition to being adjudged the youngest woman ever admitted to the Illinois bar, Miss Aronin is said to be the most comely. She was graduated last June, but had to wait until she became of age before taking the bar examination.

Comprehensive map of Ruhr basin. Light shading indicates the territory now held by French and Belgian troops. Heavier shading at the left indicates area occupied by allied troops in March, 1921. Shading about important cities indicates comparative size.

France's adoption of the mailed fist policy in collecting reparation from Germany has drawn the eyes of the world to the Ruhr basin, which France, aided by Belgium, has seized. The valley contains greater wealth in iron ore and coal deposits than any other area of similar size in the world. Industrial plants built in the mining centers add to the basin's wealth. Essen is the home of the Krupp works. Mulheim is the center of the vast industrial enterprises of Stinnes, the German financial wizard. The "Good Hope" properties, near Duisburg, alone employ 60,000 men.

Miss Charlotte Elliott of St. Paul, Minn., has sued the owner of a large apartment building for $25,000 damages, charging that her personality has been damaged as the result of injuries suffered when an automatic elevator in which she was riding crashed two floors to the basement. Miss Elliott, in her complaint, alleges that her former sunny disposition is now marred by fits of melancholia, that she is irritable and not easy to get along with and no longer cares for social affairs, and, worst of all, her new personality has brought about a quarrel with her fiancé that has ended in a permanent estrangement.

"Colonial Terrace," Edward Young Clarke's beautiful country home near Atlanta, Ga. While Louisiana and the nation at large are being shocked by the revelations of alleged K. K. K. Klan activities in Morehouse parish, Edward Clark Young, imperial wizard emeritus, is living the simple life on his magnificent country estate, "Colonial Terrace," near Atlanta, Ga. Young has denied any connection between the Klan and the Morehouse trouble.

Viscount Uchida. International diplomatic circles are interested in the reported statement of Viscount Uchida, Japanese foreign minister. In a discussion of Japan's foreign policy he is credited with saying that in event of non-ratification of the Washington conference agreement by the leading powers he hoped his country would "take the necessary steps" looking toward a solution of the problem in concert with Great Britain and the United States.

One could almost go around the clock with these three costumes. At least it would be easy to do if one were a late sleeper, for the negligee in the center might be worn in the boudoir when one ordered the late breakfast coffee, the draped silk frock at the right for the early lunch and afternoon stroll, while the beaded dress at the left, with the short dark silk cape is correct for evening wear. All three should be included in the trunk headed toward Florida.

Gerguson, who had been a student at Heidelberg University before the fatal duel, recently returned to New York.

Throttle Opening For Easiest Starting

EACH MANUFACTURER, in his instruction book, directs how much the throttle should be opened when the engine is to be started and the failure to observe this advice accounts for considerable difficulty, especially under cold conditions. Upon the construction of the carburetor depends very largely the throttle setting capable of giving the richest mixture, at the speed at which the engine is turned over by the starter, and the recommended throttle opening is calculated to give this essential over-richness of the mixture supplied. There is a natural tendency to assume that the more the throttle is opened the more "rich" will be supplied and the more promptly firing will take place, but this assumption is wrong and should not be followed. In particular, any carburetor with a special idling jet or low speed gasoline supply, should be started on low throttle. In this connection attention may also be called to the futile practice of opening the throttle wide, just before shutting off the ignition to stop the engine; in the hope that subsequent starting will thus be made easier. In point of fact, the mixture thus left in the cylinders is likely to be less rich than it would have been had the engine been stopped on the idling throttle opening. Certainly there is nothing in this procedure commensurate with the noise and wear and tear which it entails. Closing the choke just before the engine stops is more sensible.

CYLINDER NUMBER AND FLEXIBILITY

R. J. D. asks: Is a four-cylinder 40 horsepower sleeve engine as flexible and powerful as a six-cylinder poppet-valve engine of the same rated horsepower?

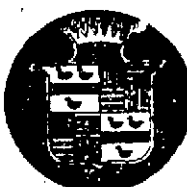

Answer: Speaking generally, the six-cylinder engine will slow down somewhat lower and carry its load more smoothly, than will the four-cylinder engine, although it is a widely held belief that engines of the sleeve type show a certain superiority over those of the poppet-valve type in their ability to pull steadily, when at low speed. From the practical standpoint, however, the advantage of the six over the four, as applied to modern cars, amounts to but little, as the gear ratios now in use are so low that cars will slow down smoothly, to as low a speed as can be reasonably required, with either the four or six cylinder engine. Differences in the design and in the condition of individual engines very often entirely counterbalance the effect produced by the difference in the number of cylinders. If the two engines are correctly rated, by the same method, there should be no difference in the power developed by them. You better try out two cars, powered respectively by the two types of engine referred to, and draw your own conclusions.

FROST ON CLOSED CAR WINDOWS

H. H. N. writes: After my sedan has stood out of doors for several hours, frost forms on the inside of the windows and sometimes remains half an hour, after I have begun to drive it, as there is any preparation which I can use to prevent this?

Answer: We do not know of any. As this frost is the frozen breath of the passengers, the provision of a little ventilation for the interior of the car will tend to remove this moisture, before it has adhered to the glass, but, of course, it will also prevent the space within the body from heating up as quickly as it otherwise would. If your car is equipped with a good heater, we think that allowing a little ventilation, at first, and then shutting it almost off, after you are getting plenty of heat, will greatly reduce your frost trouble.

Questions of general interest to the motorist will be answered by Mr. Clough in this column, space permitting. If an immediate answer is desired, enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

It is a conceded fact that such performance as that which has won Cadillac an owner allegiance unprecedented, is unattainable except by long years of unwavering adherence to precise, definite, scientific standards of manufacture. Nineteen such years have built Cadillac.

But we want you to know and to feel sure at all times that the gasoline which comes from our pumps is not only the best we know, but that you get full and complete measure, pressed down and running over.

Our pumps are inspected and checked regularly. You get full gallons from CHAMPION pumps. The integrity of the Champion pumps is the integrity of the Champion Oil Co.

It will be of interest to you to know that all Champion storage tanks are placed far enough underground to be practically safe from changes of temperature and that when run into your car, it is a fluid gallon, not a vapor gallon.

Having The Car Overhauled!

Perhaps it's using too much oil.

If the cylinders are not worn to such an extent that new pistons are necessary, we would suggest that you have your garageman get a set of Wel-Ever Piston Rings and apply one to each cylinder. They will absolutely eliminate your oil troubles.
